Brief guide for the persons invited to memory test

You have received an invitation to memory test. We would like to explain you about the meaning and procedure of the test.

The aim of memory test is to examine your memory and other brain functions.

We also talk about how you are doing and live your daily life in your opinion.

The aim is to find out the reasons of your worries and complaints.

Some find it hard to cope with daily routine, e.g. cleaning and shopping.

Some find it hard to remember which day it is or one's whereabouts.

Sometimes it may be hard to find right words or understand what others are talking about.

Such complaints could be caused by (cognitive) disorders of data processing in brain.

It is important to find out the reasons of complaints. Different areas of brain support different functions. Memory test enables to detect the potential location of disorder in brain.

Memory test includes questions and minor tasks. Some might seem easy and some more complicated. Questions should be answered in the best possible way.

Questions are answered independently without assistance to ensure proper outcome.

Necessary hearing aids and glasses should be taken along.

Test is carried out through the mediation of interpreter to ensure that you understand the question. Thus your condition can be assessed in the best possible way.

It is important that you and your interpreter understand each other. In case of a problem, please notify immediately.

The task of the interpreter is to translate everything that is told during the test.

The talk should be clear by using short sentences to ensure flexible translation. The interpreter should have enough time for translation.

The interpreter should not disclose anything to unauthorized persons as regards you or your activities during the test. The interpreter has the obligation of confidentiality.

The test also involves conversation with your close ones to better analyze the situation.

The aim of the test is to help you. Test is fully confidential.

If anything worries you, feel free to ask.

After taking the test your doctor will make a decision on the potential additional tests.

Welcome to memory test!
